

Laura Bassi Scholarship

Winter 2026

The Laura Bassi Scholarship was established in 2018 with the aim of providing editorial assistance to postgraduates and junior academics whose research focuses on neglected topics of study, broadly construed, within their disciplines. The scholarships are open to every discipline and are awarded thrice per annum: December, March, and July. All currently enrolled master's and doctoral students / candidates are eligible to apply, as are academics in the first five years of full-time employment. There are no institutional, departmental, or national restrictions.

Deadline

Winter 2026

Deadline: 15 November 2026

Results: 4 December 2026

How to Apply

Applicants are required to submit a completed application form along with their CV using the application portal on the Editing Press website by the relevant deadline. For more information about the Scholarship, including the application form, previous awardees, and a brief description of the remarkable figure of Laura Bassi, see: <https://editing.press/bassi>

Bassi Foundation Press

Separately, the Bassi Foundation Press, an open-access press, has appointed its Advisory Board and is now accepting book proposals (<https://bassi.foundation>).

